the trip

India shaped Rudyard Kipling's imagination, inspiring the stories and poetry that earned him worldwide acclaim. Born in Bombay in 1865, Kipling's work offers a vivid portrait of the subcontinent at a pivotal moment in its colonial history. This exclusive 17-day small group journey traces Kipling's path through vibrant cities, colonial hill stations and the jungles that inspired The Jungle Book, blending literature, history, architecture and wildlife.

We begin in Mumbai, exploring the Fort precinct and landmark buildings linked to Kipling's father, John Lockwood Kipling, a key figure in Indo-Saracenic architecture. From there we travel north to Chandigarh to discover Le Corbusier's UNESCO-recognised modernist vision, before continuing to Shimla, the former summer capital of the British Raj and a setting for many of Kipling's works including Kim. In Delhi, we explore World Heritage monuments, medieval ruins and the layered energy of Old Delhi's bazaars. We then journey to Kanha National Park for three nights at Kipling Camp, where morning and afternoon safaris reveal the landscapes and wildlife that brought his jungle tales to life. Our journey concludes in Kolkata, once the colonial capital, a city of fading grandeur and enduring cultural vitality.

Whether you are drawn by Kipling's writing or by India's rich history and extraordinary landscapes, this journey offers the rare chance to step into stories both imagined and real.

about your leader/escort

Your host is writer and historian John Zubrzycki. A graduate in South Asian history and Hindi from the Australian National University, John wrote his PhD on Indian traditional magic at the University of NSW and has spent more than four decades exploring India's layered history and cultural life. He has worked in India as a diplomat and foreign correspondent, and is the best-selling author of six books including The Last Nizam, The Shortest History of India, Dethroned, Empire of Enchantment, and The Mysterious Mr Jacob, which explores the extraordinary world of illusion and intrigue in colonial India.

John brings rare insight into the world that shaped Rudyard Kipling - the architecture, politics, princely states and shifting identities of late 19th century India. This journey is the third in a series of exclusive small group tours with World Expeditions, designed to uncover lesser-known sides of the subcontinent through its history, art and literature.

DAY 3 14 Feb: In Mumbai's art district and exploring the Art Deco heritage

Mumbai's architectural story continues with an exploration of its remarkable Art Deco city which holds the largest concentration of such buildings outside Miami. These elegant facades reflect a period of confidence and cosmopolitan ambition in the early twentieth century. We visit the recently restored Royal Opera House, a 1911 landmark returned to its former grandeur, before continuing to Khareghat Colony, a quiet Parsi enclave. Here, the Framji Dadabhoy Alpaiwalla Museum presents the history and traditions of India's Parsi community and their Zoroastrian roots, offering valuable context to a community that played a significant role in the city's development. After lunch at Chetana, known for its Gujarati vegetarian cuisine, the afternoon is spent in the Kala Ghoda arts precinct. Galleries, cafés and a historic synagogue sit alongside institutions such as the Prince of Wales Museum, the National Gallery of Modern Art and the David Sassoon Library, each contributing to Mumbai's rich cultural landscape.

Overnight: Abode, Mumbai

meals: B

DAY 4 15 Feb: Fly Mumbai to Chandigarh

A morning transfer to the airport for our flight north to Chandigarh. Designed in the 1950s by Swiss-French architect Le Corbusier, Chandigarh represents a bold vision of modern India, the city is renowned for its orderly sectors, wide boulevards and striking civic buildings, now recognised by UNESCO for their architectural significance. Our expert guide will introduce us to Le Corbusier's architectural legacy including some of his most iconic buildings such as the Capitol Complex.

DAY 5 16 Feb: Vista Dome First Class scenic train to Shimla

We travel into the Himalayan foothills en route to Shimla, by First Class Him Darshan Express. The large windows and glass roof allow you take in the hillsides and forests on the comfortable five hour journey. The Kalka-Shimla rail is recognised by UNESCO for its engineering achievements and the breathtaking views including 100 tunnels and 800 bridges. Shimla was once the summer capital of the British Raj, its steep streets, timbered houses and neo-Gothic public buildings reflect this period.

Overnight: Woodville Palace, Shimla

DAY 6 17 Feb: Shimla, the former summer capital of the British Raj

Rudyard Kipling first visited Shimla in 1883 and returned regularly between 1885 and 1888 during his annual leave. Shimla featured prominently in the stories he wrote for the Civil & Military Gazette and later in Plain Tales from the Hills. Its society, gossip and politics provided rich material for his early fiction. Over the course of our explorations, we visit Christ Church, whose stained glass windows were designed by Kipling's father, John Lockwood Kipling, and walk along the Mall, where scenes from Kim unfold. The Viceregal Lodge, once the residence of the Viceroy, later became the setting where discussions leading to Partition were held, a reminder of the profound historical shifts that followed the era Kipling wrote about. We also visit the Gaiety Theatre, long associated with the social and cultural life of the Raj. Today's guide, Raaja Bhasin is the leading authority on Shimla's history and Kipling's time in the hill station.

Kipling's India: Art, Architecture and Wildlife with John Zubrzycki

Overnight: Woodville Palace, Shimla

DAY 7 18 Feb: Shimla and high tea in Mashobra

Today we take a gentle walk along the Wild Strawberry Trail, weaving through cedar forest in Mashobra. Our walk concludes at the elegant Oberoi resort, where we pause for high tea with sweeping views across the Himalayan foothills.

Overnight: Woodville Palace, Shimla

DAY 8 19 Feb: Midday drive to Kalka, train to New Delhi

Enjoy a morning to stroll around Shimla's steep lanes and bazaars that cascade down the hillsides in what Kipling once described as a "crowded rabbit warren", a phrase that captures both the energy and complexity of the town. Later we travel by road to Kalka before boarding the train to New Delhi. Over the coming days, we explore the landscapes that stirred his imagination and found their way into his writing. India's capital since 1911, Delhi presents a striking contrast between old and new.

Overnight: The Imperial, Delhi

DAY 9 20 Feb: Exploring Old Delhi

Old Delhi captures much of the atmosphere that so engaged Kipling. We walk through Chandni Chowk, the mile-long artery of the old city, where traders, pilgrims and residents move through narrow lanes lined with shops and bazaars. Nearby stands the Jama Masjid. As the largest mosque in Old Delhi, it can accommodate up to 20,000 worshippers and remains a centre of daily religious life. Enjoy an e-rickshaw ride to the old city bazaar lanes. Today, we will have lunch at Haveli Dharampura before walking through Lodhi Gardens to view the Sayyid and Lodhi-period tombs. Later visit the UNESCO listed Qutub Minar complex, the tallest brick minaret in the world and a striking example of early Indo-Islamic architecture. Surrounding it are the remains of the Quwwat-ul-Islam Mosque, one of the earliest mosques built in northern India.

meals: B,L

DAY 10 21 Feb: More in Delhi, mosques and the Mughal period

The focus shifts to the art and architecture of the Delhi Sultanate and Mughal periods, beginning at the UNESCO listed Humayun's Tomb. Built in the sixteenth century and set within a restored Mughal garden, this elegant mausoleum is widely regarded as the architectural precursor to the Taj Mahal. And to Nizamuddin, one of Delhi's oldest urban quarters, to visit the shrine of the revered Sufi saint Nizamuddin Auliya. Lunch at Lota Café, followed by a short visit to the adjacent Crafts Museum, which showcases traditional Indian textiles and artisanal practices from across the country. Later transfer to Nizamuddin Train Station for the overnight train to Jabalpur, departing at 17:45.

Kipling's India: Art, Architecture and Wildlife with John Zubrzycki

Overnight train to Jabalpur.

DAY 11 22 Feb: On to Kanha National Park and Kipling Camp

From Jabalpur we drive through rural Madhya Pradesh to Kanha National Park. Often cited as the landscape that inspired The Jungle Book, Kanha is one of India's largest and most celebrated wildlife reserves, covering nearly 2,000 square kilometres of forest, meadows and undulating hills. We settle into Kipling Camp, located in the buffer zone of the park. Established in 1982 as India's first private wildlife camp, it was founded by the Wright family - long-standing advocates for conservation in the subcontinent. The camp continues to reflect that commitment under the leadership of Belinda Wright, founder of the Wildlife Protection Society of India, whose work has been instrumental in strengthening anti-poaching efforts nationwide.

Overnight: Kipling Camp

DAY 12 23 Feb: On safari in Kanha National Park

Kanha's forests and grasslands support tiger, leopard, jackal, hyena, wolf and the rare barasingha, or swamp deer, along with more than 200 recorded bird species. These varied habitats provide the ecological setting that helped shape Kipling's imagined jungle world. Early morning and late afternoon safaris take us into the park's core zones, when wildlife is most active. Between drives, there is time to rest at camp or join guided nature walks in the surrounding forests and along the Banjar River, where birdlife is particularly rich.

DAY 13 24 Feb: Jungle side in Kanha National Park

A further day at Kipling Camp. Between excursions, the camp itself offers a quiet setting in which to relax. Shaded verandas overlook gardens and woodland, and the nearby Banjar River provides a peaceful backdrop. This unhurried day deepens our understanding of the landscape that inspired Kipling's jungle world.

DAY 14 25 Feb: Drive to Raipur, fly to Kolkata

A morning drive to Raipur airport for our flight east to Kolkata. Our exploration focuses on sites closely associated with the period that shaped Kipling's career, including Dalhousie Square and the Victoria Memorial, as well as the historic British Cemetery on Park Street. These landmarks reflect the imperial setting in which much of his early journalism and fiction took form. Often regarded as India's intellectual capital, Kolkata has long been home to writers, artists and filmmakers whose influence extends well beyond Bengal. Its markets, riverfront and stately but weathered mansions speak to its former prominence as the commercial heart of eastern India.

Overnight: Fairlawn, Kolkata

meals: B

DAY 15 26 Feb: In Kolkata

Kolkata reveals itself early at the Flower Market beside Mallick Ghat on the Hooghly River. From here, we begin a walking exploration of central Kolkata, visiting the Great Eastern Hotel, where Kipling once stayed, and continuing past Raj Bhavan, the Writers' Building, the High Court and St John's Church. After lunch, we travel into north Kolkata to visit the Marble Palace, its interiors house an eclectic and often unexpected collection of European paintings, sculptures and decorative arts alongside Indian artefacts. Named for the many varieties of patterned marble used throughout, the house remains one of the city's most distinctive private residences. Later, we explore Chitpur Road, among the oldest thoroughfares in Kolkata, where generations of diverse communities - Hindu, Muslim, Jain, Parsi, Jewish, Chinese and Anglo-Indian - have lived and traded.

Overnight: Fairlawn, Kolkata

DAY 16 27 Feb: Memorials and mausoleums in Kolkata

Our final day begins at the Victoria Memorial. Constructed from the same Makrana marble used for the Taj Mahal, the building stands as a monumental reminder of the imperial era. We then visit the South Park Street Cemetery. Within its grounds stand weathered colonnades, obelisks and domed mausoleums - memorials to civil servants, traders and families who lived and died during the early years of British presence in India. After lunch, we visit SHE (Self Help Enterprise), a not-for-profit organisation supporting women's livelihoods in rural Bengal. By reviving the traditional kantha quilting stitch, SHE provides artisans with training and access to international markets, preserving a regional craft while creating sustainable income.

Overnight: Fairlawn, Kolkata
meals: B,D

DAY 17 28 Feb: Trip concludes

As the journey comes to an end, we depart with a deeper understanding of the India that shaped Kipling's imagination.

country information

India is a vast and diverse country shaped by millennia of history, culture and exchange. From the Himalayan ranges in the north to desert landscapes, fertile plains and tropical coastlines, its geography is as varied as its people and traditions. Ancient monuments sit alongside dynamic modern cities, and regional identities, languages and cuisines reflect remarkable cultural diversity. Home to over a billion people, India is the world's largest democracy and a meeting place of many faiths and philosophies, including Hinduism, Buddhism, Sikhism, Islam and Christianity. While hundreds of languages are spoken across the country, English is widely used and facilitates travel throughout much of India.

climate

February is an excellent time to travel in India, with generally dry conditions and comfortable temperatures across much of the country. In Delhi and Kolkata, daytime temperatures typically range in the low to mid 20Cs (mid 70Fs), cooling to around 10 - 15C (50 - 59F) in the evenings, so light layers are recommended.

Kipling's India: Art, Architecture and Wildlife with John Zubrzycki

Mumbai and Kolkata will feel warmer and more humid, with daytime temperatures often reaching the high 20Cs (around 80 - 84F), while evenings remain pleasantly mild.

In contrast, Shimla in the Himalayan foothills will be noticeably cooler, with daytime temperatures around 10 - 18C (50 - 64F) and colder evenings that can drop close to 5C (41F), so warmer layers are essential.

At Kanha National Park, expect warm, sunny days around 25 - 30C (77 - 86F), ideal for wildlife viewing, with cool early mornings and evenings during game drives, when temperatures can fall to around 8 - 12C (46 - 54F).
